THE MAJOR:

History is the study of past civilizations and problems used to promote insight and understanding of the problems of today, preserve our great cultural heritage, and enrich our appreciation of man and his world. History broadens our perspective and allows us to discover the essential elements of human existence. As such, history prepares students for careers in teaching, law, business, government service, advertising, historical editing, and related areas. The surplus of qualified history teachers has limited opportunities in education, but graduates find placement in other occupations.
