THE MAJOR:

Nurses are constantly in demand as an integral part of the health service professions. Hospitals, clinics, public health agencies, armed services, schools, and comprehensive mental health centers find the skills and assistance of qualified nurses indispensable. Besides a need for undergraduate nurses, there is a great demand for nurses with advanced education as clinicians, specialists, researchers, teachers, and administrators. Excellent employment service opportunities exist for men and women throughout the nation and in foreign countries as well.
