

POLITICAL SCIENCE & GOVERNMENT

What can I do with this degree?

AREAS

EMPLOYERS

STRATEGIES

GOVERNMENT

Public Policy
Research
Regional Planning
City or Town Management
Intelligence
Foreign Service
Law Enforcement
Legislative, Executive, or Judicial Services
Program Administration

Federal, state, and local government

Complete an internship in government or related area.
Serve in model United Nations.
Become involved in student government.
Participate in cross-cultural groups and organizations.
Write for campus publications focused on national and international affairs.
Develop skills in computers, statistics, and data analysis.
Acquire foreign language competency and travel experience for international positions.
Supplement curriculum with business courses.
Earn a graduate degree in political science or public administration for advancement.
Volunteer with the staff of a government official.
Participate in local or national campaigns.

LAW

Law firms
Corporations
Federal, state, and local government
Private practice
Special interest groups
Universities

Develop excellent research, writing, analysis, and communication skills.
Plan to attend law school and earn a law degree.
Obtain specialized certification for paralegal positions.

POLITICS

Elected or Appointed Leadership
Campaign Management
Staff Administration
Special Interest Advocacy

Legislative, executive, or judicial officials
National, state, or local government
Political action committees
Special interest groups
Political parties
Campaigns (national, state, or local)

Volunteer for national or local campaigns.
Gain experience through internships in government.
Obtain leadership roles in campus organizations.
Seek leadership roles on the regional or national level.
Become involved in campus political organizations, student government, campus publications, or community service projects.
Take courses in statistics, computer science, environmental protection, or public policy.
Develop a network of personal contacts.
Be prepared to begin a political career as a volunteer before moving to full-time or paid positions.

AREAS	EMPLOYERS	STRATEGIES
NONPROFIT Administration Management Public Relations Fund Raising	Nonprofit organizations Foundations Professional associations Special interest groups	Gain experience through volunteering or completing an internship. Supplement curriculum with courses in business, psychology, sociology, or social work. Obtain leadership roles in campus organizations. Develop strong written and oral communication skills. Demonstrate knowledge and experience in a specialty area (e.g., public health, environment, urban issues).
BUSINESS Sales Human Resources Management Advertising Public Relations	Product and service organizations Retail stores Hotels Restaurants Manufacturers Financial companies Insurance companies Print and electronic media Other business corporations	Develop strong analytical, verbal, writing, and computer skills. Acquire a business minor or add business as a double major. Gain experience in an area of interest through internships or other employment. Obtain leadership roles in campus organizations. Demonstrate excellent interpersonal skills.
JOURNALISM Editing Reporting Circulation Sales	Newspapers (national, local, or trade) Wire services Magazines Internet sites Large corporations Political parties Political action committees	Obtain summer or part-time work experience with a newspaper or magazine. Complete an internship in journalism. Choose writing intensive coursework. Become proficient in desktop publishing and photography. Develop excellent verbal and written communication skills. Join the college newspaper, yearbook, or other publication staff. Become a student member of professional associations. Create a portfolio of published writing samples. Obtain experience in and knowledge of a specialty area of interest.

AREAS

BROADCASTING

News Programming
Production

EMPLOYERS

Television stations (network, cable, or public)
Radio stations (regional or national)
Independent syndications

STRATEGIES

Complete an internship in radio or television.
Experience in government or political affairs is usually required for specialized reporting positions.
Volunteer with public or campus media.
Develop strong reporting, writing, and debating skills.
Cultivate an attractive and appealing appearance.
Volunteer to announce local or campus sporting events.
Become involved in drama (i.e., direct, act, or work with technical crew).

EDUCATION

Public schools
Private schools
Colleges and universities

Obtain appropriate state teacher certification for public school opportunities.
Gain certification in more than one subject for greater marketability.
Earn a Ph.D. for college teaching or research positions.
Volunteer with community or church youth programs to gain experience working with children and adolescents.
Become involved in student organizations, debate, publications, government, and athletics.

GENERAL INFORMATION

- An undergraduate degree in political science is good preparation for graduate or professional study in areas such as psychology, law, or business.
- Research the pre-requisites of the area of interest and tailor program of study to meet curricular and skill needs.
- Excellent verbal and written communication skills are imperative for most careers related to politics or government.
- Become familiar with the government application process for opportunities in federal, state, or local government.
- For careers in politics, be prepared to volunteer extensively before being hired or elected as an employee or official. Begin by working with the campaign or official of choice while in college.
- Many elected public officials begin careers in other fields (law, medicine, business) before campaigning for office.

What can I do with this degree?

POLITICAL SCIENCE & GOVERNMENT

Political Science/Government Links:

Army ROTC

Riley Guide Jobs in Public Service

Federal Jobs.Net

Federal Jobs from Fed World

Calling Students to Public Service Careers

A Call to Serve

American Political Science Association - Online Resources to Find a Job

United States Office of Personnel Management

Federal Jobs Digest

American Enterprising Institute for Public Policy Research

Federal Job Search

Government Jobs

FBI Employment

Lawyers from the Occupational Outlook Handbook

Teacher-Postsecondary from the Occupational Outlook Handbook

AREAS

GOVERNMENT

Public Policy

Research

Regional Planning

City or Town Management

Intelligence

Foreign Service

Law Enforcement

Legislative, Executive, or Judicial Services

Program Administration

EMPLOYERS

Federal, state, and local government

STRATEGIES

Complete an internship in government or related area. Serve in model United Nations. Become involved in student government. Participate in cross-cultural groups and organizations. Write for campus publications focused on national and international affairs. Develop skills in computers, statistics, and data analysis.

Acquire foreign language competency and travel experience for international positions.

Supplement curriculum with business courses. Earn a graduate degree in political science or public administration for advancement. Volunteer with the staff of a government official.

Participate in local or national campaigns.

AREAS

LAW

EMPLOYERS

Law firms

Corporations

Federal, state, and local government

Private practice

Special interest groups

Universities

STRATEGIES

Develop excellent research, writing, analysis, and communication skills. Plan to attend law school and earn a law degree. Obtain specialized certification for paralegal positions.

AREAS

POLITICS

Elected or Appointed Leadership

Campaign Management

Staff Administration

Special Interest Advocacy

EMPLOYERS

Legislative, executive, or judicial officials

National, state, or local government

Political action committees

Special interest groups

Political parties

Campaigns (national, state, or local)

STRATEGIES

Volunteer for national or local campaigns. Gain experience through internships in government. Obtain leadership roles in campus organizations. Seek leadership roles on the regional or national level. Become involved in campus political organizations, student government, campus publications, or community service projects. Take courses in statistics, computer science, environmental protection, or public policy. Develop a network of personal contacts. Be prepared to begin a political career as a volunteer before moving to full-time or paid positions.

AREAS

NONPROFIT

Administration

Management
Public Relations
Fund Raising

EMPLOYERS

Nonprofit organizations
Foundations
Professional associations
Special interest groups

STRATEGIES

Gain experience through volunteering or completing an internship. Supplement curriculum with courses in business, psychology, sociology, or social work. Obtain leadership roles in campus organizations. Develop strong written and oral communication skills. Demonstrate knowledge and experience in a specialty area (e.g., public health, environment, urban issues).

AREAS

BUSINESS

Sales
Human Resources
Management
Advertising
Public Relations

EMPLOYERS

Product and service organizations
Retail stores
Hotels
Restaurants
Manufacturers
Financial companies
Insurance companies
Print and electronic media
Other business corporations

STRATEGIES

Develop strong analytical, verbal, writing, and computer skills. Acquire a business minor or add business as a double major. Gain experience in an area of interest through internships or other employment. Obtain leadership roles in campus organizations. Demonstrate excellent interpersonal skills.

AREAS

JOURNALISM

Editing
Reporting
Circulation
Sales

EMPLOYERS

Newspapers (national, local, or trade)
Wire services

Magazines
Internet sites
Large corporations
Political parties
Political action committees

STRATEGIES

Obtain summer or part-time work experience with a newspaper or magazine.
Complete an internship in journalism. Choose writing intensive coursework.
Become proficient in desktop publishing and photography. Develop excellent verbal and written communication skills. Join the college newspaper, yearbook, or other publication staff. Become a student member of professional associations. Create a portfolio of published writing samples.
Obtain experience in and knowledge of a specialty area of interest.

AREAS

BROADCASTING

News Programming
Production

EMPLOYERS

Television stations (network, cable, or public)
Radio stations (regional or national)
Independent syndications

STRATEGIES

Complete an internship in radio or television. Experience in government or political affairs is usually required for specialized reporting positions. Volunteer with public or campus media. Develop strong reporting, writing, and debating skills. Cultivate an attractive and appealing appearance. Volunteer to announce local or campus sporting events. Become involved in drama (i.e., direct, act, or work with technical crew).

AREAS

EDUCATION

EMPLOYERS

Public schools
Private schools
Colleges and universities

STRATEGIES

Obtain appropriate state teacher certification for public school opportunities.
Gain certification in more than one subject for greater marketability. Earn a Ph.D. for college teaching or research positions. Volunteer with community or church youth programs to gain experience working with children and adolescents.
Become involved in student organizations, debate, publications, government, and athletics.

GENERAL INFORMATION

An undergraduate degree in political science is good preparation for graduate or professional study in areas such as psychology, law, or business.

Research the pre-requisites of the area of interest and tailor program of study to meet curricular and skill needs.

Excellent verbal and written communication skills are imperative for most careers related to politics or government.

Become familiar with the government application process for opportunities in federal, state, or local government.

For careers in politics, be prepared to volunteer extensively before being hired or elected as an employee or official. Begin by working with the campaign or official of choice while in college.

Many elected public officials begin careers in other fields (law, medicine, business) before campaigning for office.

Prepared by the Career Planning staff of Career Services at The University of Tennessee, Knoxville. (2005) UTK is an EEO/AA/Title VI/Title IX/Section 504/ADA/ADEA Employer