Essay:

Receiving good grades is one of many things that will help you succeed in your undergraduate studies. Write an essay detailing what you believe are some of the other key things that will help you succeed in your undergraduate studies. Please ensure that you elaborate on your reasons. For example, you should not just state Good Study Habits or Exercise Regularly, but instead should explain how or why these things will help.

Criteria:

Ensure that your response is between 500-1000 words. No Exceptions. Please include the bibliography at the end of the essay. Note that the bibliography will NOT count against the word limit. Also, if you are merely writing a personal opinion essay and you do not use outside sources (ie. wikipedia.org) then you do not need to include a bibliography.
