PLT reviewed the following information topics

- Our college’s unwavering commitment to serving Dreamers prompted a thorough review of the CCC Dreamers Project report. The executive summary distills the key findings, all of which will provoke authentic discussion among many college leaders.

- The college’s shift to the guided pathways framework continues to receive deep attention. PLT encourages everyone to join them in continuing to learn about guided pathways. All should consider participating in the following webinars:
  a. met-majors 10 April  11am-12pm
  b. scale of adoption  22 April  10-11am
  c. institutional structures  10 May   10-11am

- VP West announced that Ryan Burnett, the bookstore manager has resigned. Follett has assigned an acting manager while immediately conducting a search for a permanent replacement. Continuity of quality service to students and faculty is the primary concern for all of us.

- After thorough vetting by members of all of RCC’s leadership councils, many department meetings, and various other committees and individuals, PLT members reviewed Riverside City College’s Strategic Planning Annual Report Card. Anyone who has missed this document will benefit from a quick read, as it will inform program review and guide many of our strategy development and implementation efforts.

- VP Green provided an update on the pending release of the spring strategic planning newsletter. When released, the newsletter will be immediately posted on the following strategic planning webpage.

- A recent report on integration of California’s educational systems received a preliminary review. PLT will review in greater detail when time permits.

- VP Carter reported on her participation in the 2019 CSSO Conference. Highlights included a compelling plenary by USC’s Rossier School’s Dr Sean Harper, one of the nation’s leading scholars on race and equity in education.
PLT considered the following policy issues

- Compliance framework standing item: PLT reviewed and discussed the college’s Strategic Planning Leadership Council Constitution and Bylaws. Most recently updated in Fall of 2018, these documents guide the smooth functions of our planning efforts. PLT also discussed at length the Program Review and Process (PRaP) Update on Resource Requests for 2018-2019. Finally, the team reaffirmed a commitment to upholding and strengthening these processes, with an emphasis on inclusive, transparent, and fair processes.

- The VPs set 26 September 2019 for the presidential investiture ceremony. Faculty leaders will be invited to participate in planning this college and community event.

PLT acted on the following items

- To support community college students’ ability to stay in school, a key piece of legislation has been proposed to expand financial aid. After careful review of data including a fact sheet, an infographic, and a flyer, along with the actual bill, PLT is submitting formal support for SB 291 on Financial Aid Expansion.

- In further support of community college students, PLT agreed to advocate for passage of AB 1314.

- A third legislative item on funding for public safety instruction, was deferred to the next meeting of PLT. To inform consideration of this bill, PLT members will consult internally and with colleagues at other colleges that support this measure.

- PLT accepted a report prepared by Facilities Management in consultation with District Facilities & RCCD Foundation regarding dedicated and named buildings, rooms and spaces at RCC. The college will update this inventory as new spaces are dedicated and renovated in the future. Any errors or omissions should be brought forward for correction.
